DIRECTIONS

By car: The KC Stadium can be accessed from Anlaby Road (A1105) near the Carnegie Heritage Library. If travelling from the north of the city, follow the A1079 down to Hull City Centre and turn right onto Anlaby Road and follow the road down until the junction at the end of the flyover. (If travelling from the east or west of the city exit the Clive Sullivan way at Rawling Way heading towards Hull Royal Infirmary, turn left at the junction (taking you westbound) and follow the road down over the flyover.) At the junction at the end of the flyover, turn left (onto Walliker Street), turn left again (onto Carnegie Street), and left again (back onto Anlaby Road). Follow the road down past the West Park Hotel and under the flyover. Then turn right, and then left into the car park. The playing area is opposite. (Look for the Viking FM sign above the door.)

By public transport: Hull Trains, National Express and other train companies provide a regular rail service into Hull Interchange. Stagecoach and East Yorkshire operate regular services down Anlaby Road. (Examples include Stagecoach No.2 and East Yorkshire 66 and the 150 services). The fare is currently £1.20 for a single ticket. You need to get off at Walliker Street, cross Anlaby road and walk through the park to the South side of the Stadium. (If you prefer to walk from the city centre, it will take about 20 minutes along Anlaby Road). (Look for the Viking FM sign above the door.)
